

Facts

The Village of Germantown is looking for high school students to serve as poll workers for the 2018 election cycle.

The primary goal is to involve and familiarize students with the voting process through the duties as a poll worker.

By participating as an election inspector, you will learn firsthand how the election process works. It is the hope that this motivates you to register and vote when you turn 18 years of age and to learn that every vote, including yours, does count.
